

'Band In Review'

By Dan Langhoff

"A stitch in time could have saved seventy" — this sums up the fate of the Oakdale High Band at the Oct. 20th Santa Cruz Band Review. In a tough, seven-band division, Oakdale placed fifth — just one point from the fourth-place trophy. Don't let the "low" finish fool you - it was Oakdale's best performance yet at Santa Cruz. If it hadn't been for the fact many points were lost over poor uniforms, OHS could have placed up to third. This would have been crowning achievement (in fact, it still is), as the bands competing in Oakdale's division were excellent. However, the music played came out quite well — the best sounding march in some time, remarked Mr. Robert Dahlin, Director.

The Band would like to take this opportunity to remind everyone of their money-raising projects, also. Currently, a fruitcake sale is in progress — they are cheaper than cakes bought in stores, we might add.
